Royal-Rochester Alcohol Egg Boiler

Cooks eggs exactly right "without watching."

Suppose you like a 3-minute egg. Put two teaspoonsful of water in the boiler. Fill the alcohol lamp to the 3-minute mark. Light up. That's all.

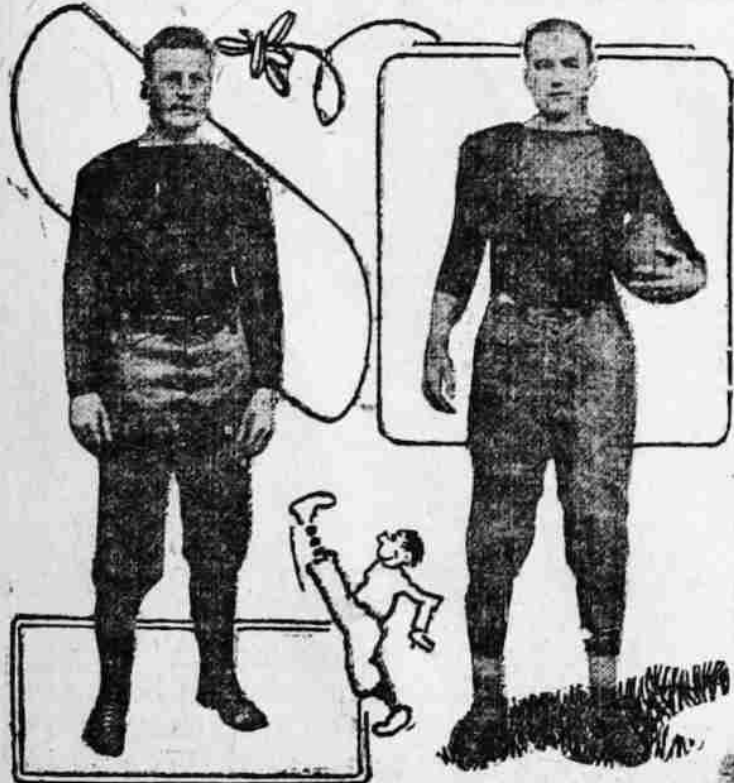

When the alcohol is burned out, the eggs are ready—exactly right. No timing is needed.

It's a handy, clever affair. Made of ingot copper with a Royal nickel finish.

WISCONSIN MEN STRONG CANDIDATES FOR THIS YEAR'S ALL-WESTERN TEAM

Quarterback Gillette and Captain Hoeftel.

Wisconsin has the best football team in the west this year, and inasmuch as Eddie Gillette and Joseph Hoeftel are the two leading players on the Badger team, it would seem that they both ought to get berths on the mythical All-Western team. Hoeftel is captain and plays at left end. Gillette stars at the quarterback position.

Wisconsin meets Minnesota next Saturday, and the hardest game of the season is expected. If Gillette and Hoeftel play up to their usual form in this game they will doubtless be assured of places on the All-Western.

POWER FOR THE SMITH BROS' FACTORY

George Graves, an engineer, has a force of men on the new power plant of the Smith Bros' factory. The grade of the old water ditch leading from the power plant of the Utah Light & Power company is being lowered five feet and today a contract is to be let for the concreting of 1,300 feet of this new water course.

The ditch above the point where a Leffel turbine is to be placed will be laid in reinforced concrete, and will be 8 feet wide at the bottom and 11 feet at the top, of a depth from 3 to 11 feet.

Under a 16-foot head, instead of 5 feet, as at present, the generating power of the plant will be increased from 30 to 60 horsepower.

Six teams are employed in grading along the 2,000 feet of canal which is to empty the flow into the Lynn canal at the headgate.

The concrete below the turbine wheel is to be laid in slabs 4 feet by 11 feet, with 2-8 inch expansion joints.

The work, which is to cost $3,500, will not be finished until near the end of December.

He Was an Obliging Landlord.

I read a story in the Hotel Gazette which illustrates the obliging landlord of today. A man was stopping at a little seaside resort kept by a German. One day the guest went into the ocean to bathe and got beyond his depth. He couldn't swim, and as he struggled he gave a loud cry for help. The German landlord, hearing the cry, came out on the veranda, and saw his guest just disappearing beneath the wave, and as he sank he threw up one despairing hand with fingers outstretched. The landlord went back into the house and brought out five beers—Smeon Ford.

Repartee.

It is perfect, when it effects its purpose with a double edge. Repartee is the highest order of wit, as it bespeaks the coolest yet quickest exercise of genius, at a moment when the passions are roused.

Voltaire, on hearing the name of Haller mentioned to him by an English traveler at Perney, burst forth into a violent panegyric upon him; his visitor told him that such praise was most disinterested, for that Haller by no means spoke so highly of him. "Well, well, n'importe," replied Voltaire, "darkness we are both mistaken."

Always Fairy Tales.

There has never been a language spoken that has not been used for telling fairy tales. Whether in hot lands or cold, among savages or the most cultivated nations—why, not a moment passes in which some one, somewhere, is not telling a fairy tale, or listening to one, or reading one, or perhaps writing a new one. Which makes it delightfully probable that we shall always have them with us, however scarce the fairies may have made themselves in these prosaic and practical days.—St. Nicholas.

DEE HOSPITAL HAS SPECIAL WATER RATE

At the meeting of the city board of commissioners this morning the recommendation of Mayor Fell to permit the Dee Memorial hospital the use of city water at the hospital and grounds at the rate of $25 a year was approved by unanimous vote. Commissioner Nye was not present.

The recommendation was made in response to a petition from the board of directors of the institution asking for the reduced rate and relating that Mayor Brewer and the city council at that time agreed to make a low rate to the hospital, but that the subsequent mayor, William Glasmann, had not ratified the agreement.

The reason Mayor Glasmann did not ratify the agreement was that he did not think it was lawful to discriminate in favor of any one institution. The rate is to remain in force ten years.

In relation to the petition of the Weber academy, asking a better water rate, the mayor recommended that the rate of 10 cents for 1,000 gallons be continued and that the same rate be extended to the Sacred Heart academy and similar educational institutions of the city.

VERDICT GIVEN THE DEFENDANT

In the case of the Prouditt Sporting Goods company against John Bowe, which was heard by a jury in Judge Howell's court Wednesday, a verdict has been given in favor of the defendant in the sum of $90.

The plaintiff company sued young Bowe for $64.65 alleged to be a balance due on a certain account with the company, the defendant denying the account and claiming that the company owed him something like $275. The case was begun in the municipal court and then taken to the district court on change of venue.

TEAM BEATEN BY GRAND JUNCTION

Grand Junction, Colo., Nov. 29.—The Grand Junction high school defeated Salt Lake high school's second team here yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 6.

The Salt Lake team, outweighed nearly 15 pounds to the man, put up a class of ball that almost offset this disadvantage. Wilson scored the touchdown for the Indians and his work, along with that of Quarterback Mulvey, was the feature of the game. Rhone scored for the Tigers, kicking his own goal, and was by far the superior of his team mates.

The lineup:
Salt Lake. Grand Junction.
Mills. Trewin
Lyman. Hines
Worth. Mahanna
King. Collins
Lewis. Deste
Zlatoschka. Fahmye
Brekon and

PRIVATE "GYM" IS COMPLETED

At a cost of $10,000 what is probably the largest private gymnasium in the state has been completed for James Pingree, at his home on the corner of Twenty-sixth and Jefferson avenue. The gymnasium is fireproof and built in mission style to conform to Mr. Pingree's residence. Leslie S. Hodgson, the architect, is the designer.

The building, which faces Twenty-sixth street, covers an area of 64x76 feet and is built on a solid concrete foundation. There are four departments to the interior, the gymnasium, the plunge room, the billiard room and the heating plant.

Entrance to the building is gained through a large brick and concrete porch, which opens into a hall. From the hall entrances lead into the different rooms.

The gymnasium room, 30x76 feet, is equipped with the most up-to-date apparatus, and the floor is covered with a cork carpet costing $250. There is a large mat for wrestling and for use under the bars, rings and trapezes. Perfect ventilation, lighting and heating is assured.

In the plunge room is a cement plunge, 14x28 feet, and varying in depth from four to six feet. The water is heated by steam pipes connected to the heating plant and there is also a Turkish bath department.

The furniture of the billiard hall consists of a combination pool and billiard table, settees, chairs and reading tables.

ATTORNEY FOR MAGGIE JONES

Maggie Jones, the negress who is alleged to have taken a purse from Joe Barton, an Austrian last Sunday night, on Wall avenue, was arraigned before Judge Reeder this morning on the charge of grand larceny. She stated that she had an attorney to represent her and she would not state whether she wished a preliminary hearing until advised by counsel.

According to the story told by the Austrian, the woman lead him along Wall avenue last Sunday evening and grabbed his pocket book containing $145. He held the woman until the police arrived and placed her under arrest. The wallet was found later that night near the place where the scuffle occurred, after the woman had thrown it away.

DANCE AT THE HIGH SCHOOL A SUCCESS

One of the most successful student socials given this season was the football dance at the Ogden High school last night under the auspices of the athletic association. The large auditorium was none too large for the event. A large number of students from the Salt Lake High school who remained after the game were the guests and the reception committee took pains to see that the visitors enjoyed themselves.

Much time had been spent by the decoration committee in preparing the hall for the occasion. Orange and black crepe streamers were numerous and formed a network above the heads of the dancers, and several streamers of college pennants were hung across the hall. The refreshment booth consisted of trolleys work in the colors of the Salt Lake school and in the opposite corner was a cozy bower about which imitation flowers and vines were entwined in a natural manner. The smoothness of the floor bore testimony to the time spent on it by those in charge of the dance.

The program containing 20 dances was gotten up in the shape of a football and made a unique souvenir, as it contained the names of the football team members with those who assisted during the season. Each dance was given a name characteristic of the day and occasion. The first dance, a two-step, was entitled "Kick Off," and names similar were given to the numbers following, the nineteenth being entitled "The Touchdown," and the medley, "Bringing Home the Bacon."

The hall began at 8:30 and ended at 11:30 to give the visitors time to catch the train for Salt Lake.

Jack Checketts, Lillian Flygare, Homer Warner, Lillian Beck and Frank King composed the reception committee.

Tennyson's Pension.

Our note published in this column on Peel's contempt for literature recalls the fact that it was Peel who obtained Tennyson his pension of £200. It was not, however, from love of poetry—Sir Robert in fact never read a poem of Tennyson's. Monckton Milnes, prompted by Carlyle, was the lever.

One is reminded how Milnes at first demurred, protesting that his constituents would think the affair "a job." And of Carlyle's persuasion: "Richard Milnes," he stormed, "on the Day of Judgment when the Lord asks you why you didn't get that pension for Alfred Tennyson it will not do to lay the blame on your constituents. It is you who will be damned—Westminster Gazette.

Hope to Find Buried Treasure.

Enthusiasm for the finding of several Spanish coins along the beach at Fenwick island, farmers from all over that section of Delaware are neglecting their farms to dig for buried treasure, of which the coins are supposed to be a part. The excitement was started by the picking up of several Spanish coins, most of them dated around 1782. The rumor of the find spread through the country, and since then the old story of the wreck of several Spanish vessels on the Fenwick beach has been revived.

Scientific Melon Raising.

Spanish farmers who raise melons plant only the seeds of those specimens which at the family table were found particularly sweet, fragrant and pulpy. By this process of selection they bring it about that sometimes there is a whole plantation without a single flavorless melon in the crop.
